Cow with one horn

Writer: Sebongile Daniel, Mpho Ntlhanngoe and Khothatso Ranoosi

Illustration: Marion Drew

Translated By: Khothatso Ranoosi and Marion Drew

English

Story Book

Cow with one horn

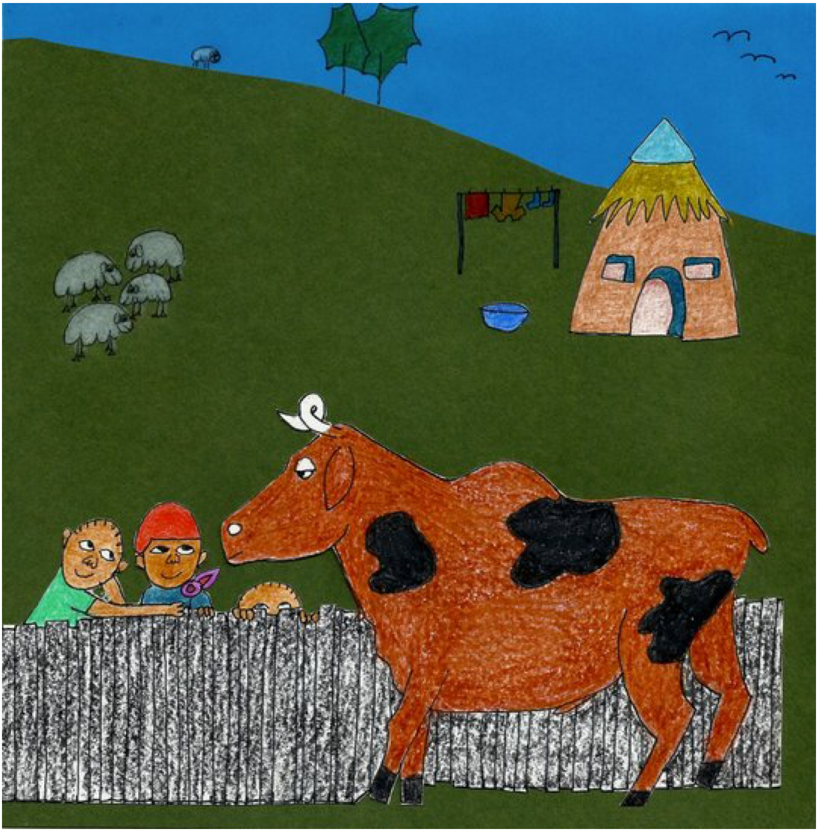

Writer: Sebongile Daniel, Mpho Ntlhanngoe and Khothatso Ranoosi
Illustration: Marion Drew
Translated By: Khothatso Ranoosi and Marion Drew
Reformatted for Bloom By: Cara Ediger

English

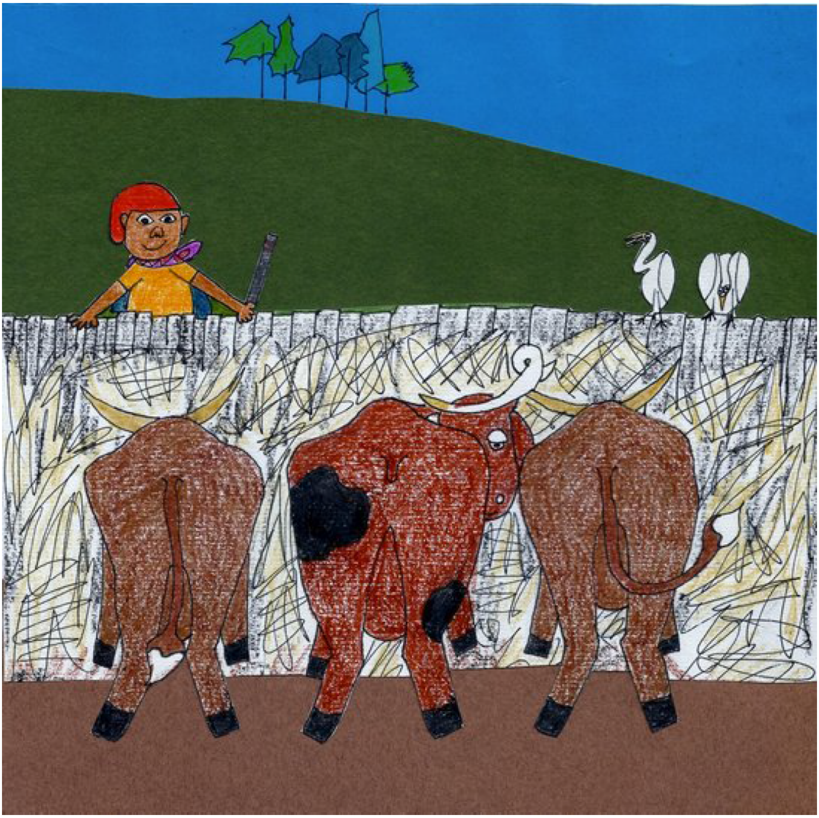

Cow with one horn
Writer: Sebongile Daniel, Mpho Ntlhanngoe and Khothatso Ranoosi
Illustration: Marion Drew
Translated By: Khothatso Ranoosi and Marion Drew
Language: English

This story was created in Paleng Children's Centre, Malea-lea, Lesotho http://paleng.weebly.com/, Facebook Paleng.

Saide, South African Institute for Distance Education
www.africanstorybook.org
A Saide Initiative

Heeeee! There is a beautiful cow at home.

It has no tail and only one horn. It looks so beautiful.

It is fat, and has a big stomach.

It is the strongest cow.

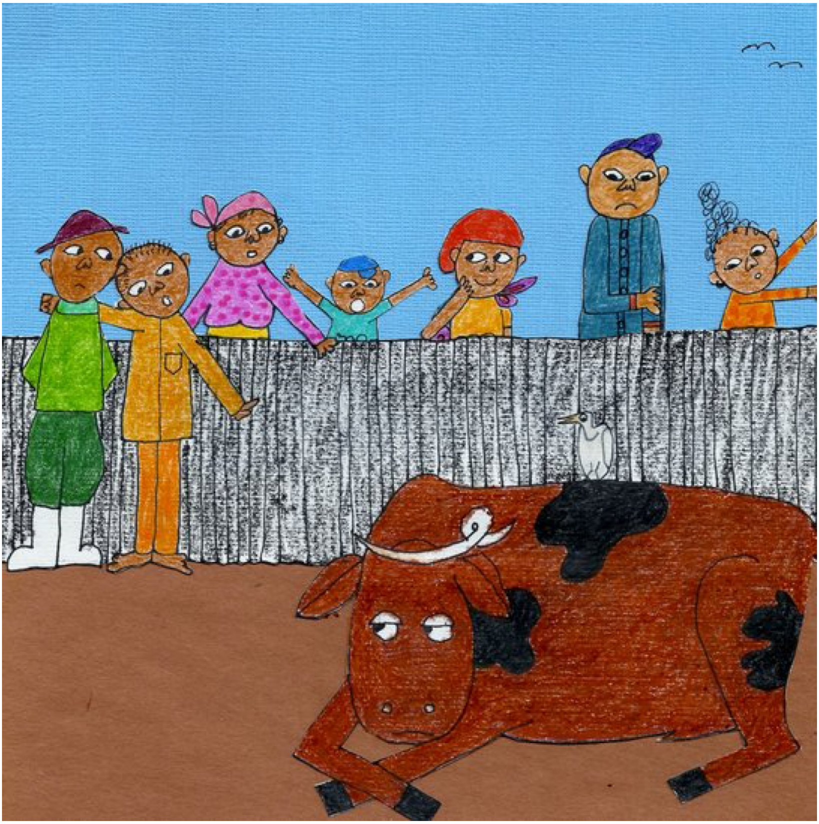

The shepherd loves this cow very much. He has taught this cow to listen only to his voice.

When the herd go to the fields to graze, this cow eats alone.

This cow is a great fighter, so the other cows leave it alone.

People know this cow. They are afraid of it, because it can fight with its one horn.

If you met such a cow, what would you do?